The Effects of Alcohol and Cannabis Use on Adolescent Victimization Experiences: A Comparative Analysis

Work Plan: (Please describe objectives, methods and specify the research question(s), maximum 250 words.)

-- Objective: To examine cross-national variation in the effects of alcohol and cannabis use on adolescent victimization.

-- Methodology: Hierarchical Linear Modeling (HLM) to estimate the effects of region and contextual measures on the relationship between adolescent alcohol and cannabis use and victimization experiences.

-- Research Questions: What is the effect of alcohol and cannabis use on adolescent victimization? Are there differences in the alcohol/cannabis use–victimization relationship among European countries? If there are differences among European countries, can those differences be explained by regional variations in intoxication, in setting, and in expectation about the effects of alcohol and cannabis?
